Laundry Definitions

From the Global Leader in Commercial Laundry

Consumer Products

Competitors produce residential-quality machines in mass volume, at lesser cost, using lower-grade materials like plastics and less expensive designs with hung suspensions. They often need to be replaced within 5-7 years¹.

Commercial Products

Speed Queen machines are commercial products that have been adapted for the residential market. They're designed and tested for 10,400 cycles in a laundromat and up to 25-years in the home. Plus, they are easily serviceable with simple design components.
